It's the book every man needs...and every woman desperately wants him to have.

“Living alone I was blind to my sloppy ignorance. Once in a relationship and forced to do my fair share of housekeeping, had I not read Clean Like a Man, I’d probably still be living like a pig—and still be single.”

—Richard Lewis, Comedian, Actor, and author of The Other Great Depression

“Before reading this book, I thought a goomba’s way of helping clean was lifting his legs while his wife vacuumed. This book has given me a whole new outlook and has given me a lot of laughs.”

— Steve Schirripa, Sopranos co-star and author of The Goomba Book of Love

“For those of you who aren’t in touch with your feminine side — and when a Queen isn’t handy! — I heartily recommend Tom McNulty’s engaging and helpful book. Clean Like a Man is great for all those guys who don’t know a mop from a hockey stick.”

— Linda Cobb, The Queen Of Clean®

“Clean Like a Man seemed as unlikely a title as Channel Surf Like a Woman. But it’s full of useful advice and I love its message: Real men can vacuum.”

— Mary Ellen Pinkham, author of The Best Helpful Hints and host of HGTV’s TIPical Mary Ellen

About the Author

TOM McNULTY is a writer and student of cleaning who has spent a lifetime observing the Clean Like a Man dynamic and perfecting his own housekeeping style. He lives in Minneapolis with his dog, Coco, who has an irrational fear of vacuum cleaners.
